

DOR EXTENDS RELIEF TO BUSINESSES AFFECTED BY SNOW STORMS

ATLANTA—The Georgia Department of Revenue is providing tax relief to businesses affected by the snow storms that occurred the week of January 27, 2014. This announcement coincides with the State of Emergency issued by Governor Nathan Deal.

For businesses whose principal place of business is located in Georgia and which have been affected by the snow storms, the Department is postponing until February 7, 2014, the deadlines for withholding tax returns and payments that were due on January 31, 2014.

The relief also applies to taxpayers not in Georgia but whose records are located in Georgia.

Any business, including electronic filers, who are assessed a penalty or interest and believe they did not receive due consideration regarding the storm's impact, need assistance, or have questions should contact DOR Headquarters in Atlanta at 1-877-423-6711.
